of General Granta staff, and inasmuch as his chief was not a speech-maker, the staff officer was selected as the proper person to express the views of the General-in-Chief npon the presentation of the flags. The speech of General Butterfield on this occasion attracted wide attention at the time on account of the conservative views expressed. It was a plea for mercy toward a conquered and fallen foe. Other speeches were made, hat it was conceded that General Butterfield had struck the true chord in a few well-chosen words, and that he was in fact the real orator of the day.

In presenting the flags, he asked the fathers and mothers, and brothers and sisters to cherish them only as prond mementoes of the triamph of right. He then need the following significant lengnage:

"The war is at an end. That brave and noble chieftain who led our armies to victory in the field prescribed the terms by which the conquered foe might sest, vested with full power. When war by force of arms had superseded civil law, your chosen General told the fallen enemy to lay down your arms, obey the laws, and war shall end. You are numolested during good behavior." Do yon ask vengeance?

We took occasion at the time to ask Gen. Butterfield if Gen. Grant indorsed these sentiments. The reply was that General Grant did most emphatically indose them, and that the speech was made with his entire approval.

In October, 1865, Senator Doolittle, who was then in accord with the Republican party, made aspeech, from which we take the following. He said:

"The other day, when General Grant was here, spending several honrs with him in free conversation on this subject, among others' he expressed to me the same opinion. Said I, 'General Grant, I never quote private conversation without express permission. Am I permitted to state what you now state to me? Said le, 'Certainly, there is no coaccellment on my part.' And he stated to me in the conversation that a considerable portion of the tronbles between the whites and blacks that had aiready occurred was

It was reserved for us to be scandalized by the appearance of Horace Greeley in the character of a "larky boy." The thing lass been coming on him for weeks past. That was an awal symptom of moral decomposition which arrested our attention immediately after the nomination of Grant and Colfax, when H. G., infatuated with his new leaders, tossed up his white lat in the air, and swore a dreadful oath that he would thenceforth "go in" for heavy Partagas cigars, lager-bier suppers, and Sunday morning cocktails. We hoped, however, that the outburst might be natributable to his elation at finding himself suddenly readmitted to fellowship with the "hlockheads" of the Union League, and permitted to stretch his wast bucolic bots at ease upon the brocatelle lonnges of their lordly and laxnrious Club-house. Ticket.

The radical Presidential ticket is remarkable in presenting the names of two meu of directly opposite characteristics. Grantis grave and reticent, while the disgraceful order was brought by Hebrews, who made a journey to Kashington city for the purpose, to the Colfax is sparkling all over with affected statention of President Lincola. The President wasted no time for consideration of any mother tongue some times becomes strangely contrasted with the ludicrous mistakes of those who vainly strive to imitate that humor. We have precident wasted no time for consideration of any mother tongue some times becomes strangely contrasted with the ludicrous mistakes of those who vainly strive to imitate that humor. We have precident to all the strange of the strange o Ann and now as North street, two traders occupied stores on opposite sides of the street. The one was an American, and. to call attention to his goods, he caused an image of the sun, with diverging rays, to he painted over his door, with the in scription thereunder, "Best groceries un-der the sun."

An Irishman on the opposite side of the street, who dealt in chickens, eggs, and milk, perceiving the crowds that pattonized his American friend, raused he picture of a can to be painted over his door, with the inscription underneath "Best milk under the can." The wit of and unprompted act, the quick results of his own thought and reflection. If the editor did not know the conduct of his candidate to have been infamous to the att degree, he would perhaps accorate be utilty of such flagrant misrepresentations of it.

This peculiarity of the radical ticket is for the enthusiastic, and radical effervencence knows no mean; it is either bubbling up and bursting the cork, or it is as flat as heel taps.

> WASHINGTON, June 13. CABINET CHANGES.

The New York politicians have been very active of late. It is understood that they have pressed Mr. Evarts with great TREASURY DEPARTMENT, June 13, '68.

THE MAYORALTY.

The Mayor ad interim called a meeting of the City Council this afternoon. Only the conservative members, and Mr. White, he Republican Alderman from the First ward, coming together. The City Hall Chambers having been lecked upon them, they adjourned to the law building in the same neighborhood. They passed a resolution addressed to the bank in which the corporation funds are kept, directing it not, at present, to honor any draits on mnnicipal account until the present difficulties are adjusted.

Action was also taken to ascertain by what authority the Chief of Police had excluded them from the City Hall. The Police Board, whose next meeting will be on Thursday next, will inquire into all the circumstances attending this question. sor to Mr. Seward. Mr. Johnson is averse to the change, but the presence is iderable, and he may be obliged to aubmit. The report is quite current tonight that Evarts will be Secretary of State, and Groesbeck Secretary of the Treasury, in place of McCulloch. If this latter be true, and I do not doubt that it nt in Mr. Pendleton's favor. THE CHIEF JUSTICE.

Mr. Chase talks treely of the political tuation. He is visited just now by President himself, and though the Chase movement may be regarded as a sensato keep up close relations with the possible "coming man." A letter has been received by a promimt Democratic member of Congress Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, from which I make the following extracts: "I can say," wr'tes Mr. Adams, "in respect of July convention, that I am an senticant for no office under the aun. My course at home has been dictated by the nce. I feel that the accident of bird has thrust me upon the public attention rather before my time; and also accident of birth, involves a great deal of a certain kind of responsibility. If I can acquit myself creditably under these old family honors free of tarnish, I shall be content, and the Vice Presidency may find some one worthier and more anxious than myself." It is the general belief that Adams will be nominated by acclamation if Pendleton is nominated for the first place. The Senate is disgracing itself and the country to-day with its partisan action toward the City of Washington make the negro master here seems to be the soul of radical ambition. Already there is no getting along for the odor in overwhelming force. In the House guardism of the day is going on.

That in fact the revenue during the facal year ending June 30, 1867, during which time the removals were made, was entirely antisfactory, coming up very closely to the liberal estimate of the department, while the decline of the revenues have chiefly occurred during the present fincal year, long after the officers removed by the President had been relustred, or others whose meninations had been approved by the Senate had taken the places of the appointees of the President. It was for these reasons and no others that the communication could not be received, and it was returned to the Commissioner. The return of it is also justified by the fact that copies of its were sent to the press before it was handed to the Secretary. It must, therefore, have been intended for the public rather than for the files of the Department.

THE TEAM OF SIR JOSEPH HAWLEY,
the Kentieh baronet, comprising Rosicrucian, Green Sleeve and Blus Gown, have long been the anbjact of the greatest curiosity from the fact that their owner coosidered the first two the best of the lot, and, indeed, on Tuesday, "declered to win" with them, while the public have persistently belisved Blue Gown tar superior to either, and through good the merits of his own atud, were, in the extent egalnst tha popnier idol, and the consequence of the move in both directic ms was that Blue Gown for some time before the race was second favorite, latterly at so little as four to one; while his atable companions, who at one time were both leading favorites, retired to fourteen and twenty to one respectively. The Duke of Nawcastle had three engaged, Speculm, Pace and Harvester; of whom Harvester, proving himself worthless, was recently ceratched: Pace, after a disguaceful performance in the Two Thousand Guineas, virtually retired from the market, and Speculum, who had made several highly creditable appearancea, received much public support. Peni

The question of the dey is the wretched performance of Lady Filizabsth, for which no one can account without disored to the reputation of her noble owner. It is stated that Lord Hassings, immediately after the event, instead of exhibiting the chagrin which might have been expected noder the circumstances, seemed highly estaised, and it is whispered also that he is a iarge wioner by the result, having latterly laid against 11 sown animal and backed Bine Gown. THE OAKS.

The Oaks, the "ladies race," run yesterdey, was remarkable chiefly for a terrific thunder-storm, accompanied with abover a of hail of the wondrous size generally to be found only in the senestional paragraphs in the country papers, for the second humlileting detest of Lady Elizabeth, and for an outbreak of indignation on the part of the public which sufficiently indicated the general estimate of Lord Hastings' conduct. I have another Americac vessel to add to the already too long the distance of the spanish custom-hones authorities in the way of fines and confiscations. The heig C. V. Williams, Captain Thompson, of Philadelphia, is the odditional victim. Nearly one-half of her cargo was confiscated by the enstom-house collector of Trinidad, because the figures of her monifest represented pounds instead of kilogrammes, as required by the Spanish regulations. Not the least intention to defraud was discernable or charged, yet the confiscation was made. The case is own in the bands of Mr. de la Reintrie, the acting Consul-General here, and to his hands they are likely to remain for a long time. The Captain General is summertoning in Gunahacoa, and this is alleged as a reason for keaping the preceding appeals oo unjust fines and confiscation, imposed upon American vessels, undecided. last night, caused by the discovery of flames issuing from one of the east windows of the Ninth Ward school house, on the corner of Niuth and Mega-zine streets. The engines were at the scene promptly, but there was no cause for their services, the fire being extin-guished before their arrival. It was cansed by the accidental upsetting of a coal oil lamp in the jauitor's room, which set fire to the table and window-sash. The loss was very slight.

Venezuelan capital to the 22d, which show no amelicration in the political and military situations of the republic. On the 10th, at early morn, a stabborn battle was commenced in the very suburbs of Caracas between the government forces, under the command of General Brazual, and the inaurrectionary army, led by General Micbel A. Rojas. The last was the attacking party. The engagement lasted nutil half past 2, when ceneral Rojas withdrew his troops, for want of ammunition, to the village of Antimano, alx miles from the capital. He was non-molested in his retreat. The loss of the two sides is not exactly known, but must have been very heavy. Over five handred wounded were brought to the government hospital in Caracas, comprising most of tha wounded of General Bruzual's torces, together with auch of General Relas' army as was not carried off by him in his retreat.

On the lith the Secretary of the Interior, Dr. Wenceelao Urrutia, had an interview with General Rojas and arranged a truce with him, which had not expired up to the lagest advices. Many conferences had taken place between representatives of the two parties on the subject of a peace ful settlement of difficulties, but no conclusions had been arrived at, and on the 21st the contending parties appeared further of than ever from agreeing upon nte that shall be reared above the manes of the model railroad Presi-dent. We sincerely trust that Mr. Guthearth may be prolonged indefinitely.

Mr. Guthrie is succeeded by Hon. Russell Honston, the Vice-President of the Company. A more fortunate succession could scarely have occurred. Mr. Honson, as Vice-President of the company has displayed managerial abilities of the very highest order. He has the unqualified indorsement of the Directory and the full confidence of the stockholders and the people generally. In Caracas people were beginning to believe that the truce was a trap of General Bruzual to gain time, as he was daily looking for recorrecements from Coro and Maracaybo, which placee contained the only troops in on which the government relied with tull confidence. Should these not soon arrive, General Bruzual will surely burshle to austain binuselt against hiopponents. The truce, it was thought would be terminated on the 22d, and General Rejas expected to be re-emforced on the 24th by 3000 men, under the elder Monagas, who was reported on the 2lder Monagas, who was reported on the 21st signally fit for the place. It seems almost preposterons to suppose that any one could be found competent to perform the difficult duties of this high office with any hing like the satisfaction afforded by Mr. Honston's predecessor. Yet, Mr. Honston's very association with Mr. Gnthrie has qualified him for the Presidency, and we predict that his administration will be enlightened, prograssive, and in every way commensurate with the magnitude and ambition of the corporation of which he on the 24th by 30% men, under the elder Monagas, who was reported on the 21st at Rio Chico, but three days' march from Caracas. Then the revolutionlats would enter the city unless General Bruznal was also re-enforced in the meantime.

The revolutionary fires were daily appracing, and nearly all the central and eastern portions of Vanezuela were held by other anthonities than those acknowledking allegiance to President Falcon.
